

The Obelisk

The Obelisk, standing majestic on its base, depicts the strength of the Polytechnic University of the Philippines as an institution of higher learning, promoting educational and moral aims which are fortified by a determined leadership with a clear vision for the Filipino youth and an efficient support system inspired by the virtues of public service.

With a long-standing reputation as a vanguard of truth and social justice, PUP also pays homage to the Great Conscience and Brain of the Philippine Revolution, Apolinario Mabini, who reflects everything the University upholds especially its mission of public enlightenment.

On top is the University Star Logo, symbol of PUP's image as the Light of the Nation. It stands for the perfection of the human person and the search for truth. Its five concentric circles represent infinite wisdom, and each point of the star signifies integrity, ingenuity, industry, intelligence and internationalism – the core values of PUP as a Total University.

Dedicated to the future, the obelisk stands here and now as an emblem of strength and greatness that only time can change.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

June 2011

His Excellency

BENIGNO "NOYNOY" AQUINO III

President, Republic of the Philippines

Malacañang Palace

San Miguel, Manila

Thru: Hon. PATRICIA B. LICUANAN
Chairman, Commission on Higher Education and the PUP Board of Regents

Dear President Aquino:

May I respectfully submit to Your Excellency the 2010 PUP President's Report. I am proud and humble of the contributions that the University has made in support of your administration's agenda of providing the benefits of quality tertiary education to many financially disadvantaged Filipinos, who, if given the opportunity to better themselves, can serve as catalysts of change in their own communities.

We have broadened the sphere of our social concerns by consistently focusing our vision on becoming a "Total University" that offers globally relevant and responsive education. We now have 19 satellite campuses situated in different parts of the country that have become learning niches, thus, democratizing education to the vast majority of Filipinos. We, likewise, produce students who, although up-to-date with the latest ICT innovations, are also home in the humanities for the nourishment of their hearts and souls, and are honed in entrepreneurship for self-sufficiency.

We thank you for the generous support you have given our University and for your inspiring leadership that goads us to work harder to reach greater heights. We will not rest our laurels to offer affordable education, and give a better life to the marginalized sector in our country.

Please accept, Your Excellency, our esteemed support to your administration. We are one with you in realizing the promise of "daang matuwid."

Very truly yours,

DANTE G. GUEVARRA
University President

Toward a “TOTAL UNIVERSITY”

1. Foster high-quality campus environment
 2. Strategize and institutionalize income-generating projects
 3. Strengthen research, publications, and creative works
 4. Model quality management and fiscal responsibility
 5. Improve sense of community involvement and linkages
 6. Institutionalize the principles of academic freedom and responsibility
 7. Promote academic excellence in student and faculty performance nationally and internationally
 8. Nurture and enrich our cultural heritage
 9. Integrate ICT with instruction, research, service, and production
 10. Evolve wholesome living and pleasant working environment for faculty, employees, and students

Highlights of Accomplishments

2010 is an exciting time for the “People’s University,” the Polytechnic University of the Philippines (PUP), to recognize its progress and reflect on its numerous accomplishments. The PUP has concretized its vision to become a Total University and a global powerhouse of quality, responsive, and relevant education — the most effective weapon against poverty. Its existence as a premier institution of learning is fueled by the desire to democratize access to education by offering low-cost yet quality education to many economically challenged scholars. Its purpose-driven and determined administrative officials, faculty members, and students, likewise, echo the longings for success and prosperity by becoming potent agents of social transformation and development.

Fleshing Out the Vision of a TOTAL UNIVERSITY

The Polytechnic University of the Philippines, through the resourcefulness and commitment of its present and past officials, has determinedly sought excellence in intensifying academic initiatives in instruction, research output, services, international linkages, and information and communication technologies. Under the stimulating headship of Dr. Dante G. Guevarra of the Office of the President (OP), the University demonstrated once again the vitality of its open democracy and viability not only as a university having the biggest tertiary student population in the land but also as a comprehensive institution nurturing the vision of a “Total University” with a vital role to play in Philippine life.

Aspiring to become the finest institution of higher learning in the country — competitive with the best internationally — PUP channeled its projects and programs toward infrastructure and facility improvements as well as faculty and student empowerment.

The University, through the offices under the OP, amassed unprecedented accomplishments in the year under review.

The Office of the President (OP), remaining steadfast in realizing its vision and mission, made possible the following achievements with efficiency and excellence as standards:

- publication of The Paradox of Human Organizations;
- membership of Dr. Guevarra (Vice President for NCR) in the Philippine Association of State Universities and Colleges; and
- recognition of Dr. Guevarra as the Outstanding Alumnus of the Manuel Luis Quezon University.

Office of the University Board Secretary

Unwavering is the office's will to assure that the regular meetings of the Board of Regents (BOR) are efficiently carried out. For the year 2010, the Office of the University Board Secretary (OUBS) submitted for approval to the BOR new plans and projects deemed beneficial to the members of the PUP community. Four regular and two special board meetings of the BOR were successfully facilitated by the unit. To assure the much-needed focus and direction for the discussion of critical matters about University concerns, the office comprehensively details, prepares, and distributes papers or documents to each member of the BOR days prior to the schedule of meetings. Furthermore, the OUBS facilitated the Zero Waste Management Project at the oval dumpsite in October and the Bingo Socials held during the University Christmas celebration.

Legal Office

The University Legal Office has been relatively busy in delivering quality legal services to the PUP community in the form of: legal advice; issuance of certifications and affidavits of loss; signing of clearances of administrative employees, faculty members, and students; witnessing the signing and formulation of memoranda of agreement entered into by the University; attendance in legal proceedings and essential judicial functions; and filing of cases against erring government officials for immediate action.

Public Affairs Office

In 2010, it is notable to claim that the dependable Public Affairs Office (PAO) was at its busiest in its desire to project the institution's image as a "Total University" and promote its activities and projects.

- Tasked with the dissemination of public information and the establishment of media relations, the PAO more than realized its objectives and varied functions:
 - News and photo releases were sent to GMA News.TV, The Manila Bulletin, Philippine Star, Manila Standard Today, Abante Tonite, and Remate Tonite.
 - In close coordination with the broadcast media, PUP keeps the public posted about the University events and makes its officials available for interviews when necessary.

- Coverage of special University events, such as the yearend commencement exercises and the 1st Gat Apolinario Mabini Awards (GAMA), and interviews with the University President and other officials were broadcast on ABS-CBN, GMA, QTV11, and any other television networks.
- A press conference was also organized to officially launch the 1st Gat Apolinario Mabini Awards (GAMA) in September at the Manila Room, Hasmin Hostel, PUP Sta. Mesa, Manila.
- PUP announcements and interviews with the University President and other officials were also aired by accommodating local radio stations. DZMM Teleradyo, DWFM 92.3 News FM, and some other radio stations broadcast media advisories informing students and the public of the suspension of classes, the administration of PUP College Entrance Tests (PUPCET), and the conduct of special University events, such as the midyear and the yearend graduation, GAMA, and the like.
- The office's role in the daily communicative life of PUP as a university brimming with wisdom and productive learning cannot be overstated. The semimonthly published PUP News, official newsletter of the University, has informed the community of the latest and real events on the campus, eliminating the grapevine technique of information dissemination.
- Coverage of special University events was efficiently handled by professional photographers and videographers and other staff members of the office.
- Speeches delivered by University officials came out of the creative pens and minds in the PAO. Other messages and special write-ups originated from the same source.

Internal Audit Office

The Internal Audit Office manages the utilization of University resources by assuring that all disbursements conform to accounting and auditing laws, rules, and regulations and that an efficient system of internal financial control is implemented. In addition, the office does financial and compliance audits by regularly or periodically checking and monitoring the accuracy of financial statements or records in the institution.

Among the well-done accomplishments by the office in 2010 were:

- examination of the income statement of the University Canteen;
- monitoring of funds and audit of financial reports of accredited student organizations on the main campus and the satellite campuses;

- supervision of fund-raising projects initiated by various faculty associations and audit of financial statements submitted by these organizations;
- visiting the satellite campuses to:
 - check if the collection of tuition and any other fees conform to financial and compliance audits;
 - monitor the prompt recording in the books of accounts and the submission of all report requirements in conformance with the Commission on Audit (COA) rules and regulations and accounting and auditing control measures;
 - review the status of cash advance issued to the collecting officer, and recommend the use of appropriate liquidation measures; and
 - orient officers of accredited student organizations on the preparation of accurate financial statements;
- verifying and reporting rental payments, commissions generated from canteen concessionaires and any other services, and all other income-generating activities of the University; and
- handling of other activities:
 - audit of fund-generating projects of the University;
 - inspection of delivered janitorial supplies and materials;
 - monitoring of the collection of tuition and any other fees received by the University Cashier's Office by keeping track of the chronological use of receipts, observing the opening and closing of validation machines, and reviewing the summary of collections from connection to the Server Office and collection activities from the SIS enrollment system;
 - preinspection and postinspection of various repairs and construction projects in the University;
 - inspection of reported unserviceable University properties and monitoring of their proper disposal;
 - conduct of lectures on financial accountabilities and internal control measures for different student organizations in the University; and
 - attendance in meetings with the Human Resource Information System Coordination Group to formulate and evaluate different programs and projects.

Security Office

The Security Office assured the enforcement of University policies relative to security-force operation. The unit provided security for personnel, installations, classified documents and materials, and any other University property against threat, sabotage, fire, theft, and any other damages. It, likewise, ensured peace and order on the main campus and the satellite campuses, especially during the conduct of important University events, such as the CHED National Games, PUPCET, job fairs, commencement exercises, enrollment, founding anniversary celebrations, and the like. The office also flexibly handled special University events that needed security measures for prominent officials in the country, like Sen. Richard “Dick” J. Gordon, Hon. Nicanor P. Perlas, Bro. Eddie C. Villanueva, Hon. Eugenio “Gabby” Lopez III, Hon. Lucio Tan, and Sen. Edgardo J. Angara.

Community Relations Office

The Community Relations Office (CRO) instigates and develops community projects in close collaboration with members of the academic community, government, and nongovernment institutions. Likewise, it serves as a link to maintain rapport and good relationship between the University and its neighbors. Among its highlights of accomplishments were:

- coordination with the officials of Manila City Hall and the nearby barangays to maintain peace and order in the surrounding communities;
- meeting with Mr. Mariano Nocum, president of Ceramics Corp., and CHED officials regarding the relocation of informal settlers who have been occupying the areas fronting PUP;
- cleaning the area surrounding the PUP lagoon in cooperation with the Alliance of Concerned Students;
- coordination with the officials of nearby barangays and the chief of police of Precinct 8 to ensure safety and security during the PUPCET, SCUAA athletic meet, and midyear commencement exercises;
- meeting with the Zero Waste Management, Sanitation, and Beautification Committee;
- initiating the cleanliness-and-beautification drive at the nearby barangays and the PNR ground;
- attendance in seminars or fora and environmental advocacy events:
 - a forum on “SPM, Inc. Kumusta ka na? with Ilog Pasig Stakeholders and Media;
 - International Earth Day Celebration and the Annual Pasig Fluvial Parade;
 - a seminar in water treatment conducted by the University of the Philippines (UP);
- coordination meeting with a nongovernment agency headed by Mr. Froilan L. Remo to discuss the proposal about the relocation of informal settlers along Road 10 and 12;
- negotiation with the officials of Barangays 591 and 592 for the elimination of

- illegal street vendors and double parking of vehicles along Teresa Street;
- participation in the “Run for Pasig River” dubbed as “10.10.10,” a run-for-a-cause project of the Pasig River Rehabilitation Commission (PRRC);
- updating of the scholarship program offered by the Shell, Philippines to the University; and
- participation in the “Children’s Hour” fund-raising project.

Special Projects Office

The Special Projects Office (SPO) people were relatively busy in taking care of campus-beautification projects and fund-raising activities. The office also helped facilitate two remarkable projects: PUP’s participation in the “10.10.10” Run for Pasig River in close coordination with the Pasig River Rehabilitation Commission (PRRC) and the 1st Gat Apolinario Mabini Awards (GAMA) in October.

The 1st GAMA recipients were: Dr. Renato M. Labadan (agriculture), Dr. Teresita L. Salva (education), Ms. Ma. Regina L. Lopez (environmental advocacy), Mr. Edgar L. Taladhay (environmental leadership), DFA Undersecretary Rafael E. Seguis (peace and social justice), former Chief Justice Reynato S. Puno (law), Mr. Angel C. Cacnio (visual arts), Mr. Brillante M. Mendoza (film), Ms. Kara Patria C. David (broadcast journalism), Mr. Horacio G. Severino (documentary reportage), Dr. Noel Z. Cagape (medicine, science and technology), DSWD Undersecretary Celia Capadocia-Yangco (public service), Mr. Carlito C. Amalla (youth volunteerism), Mr. Norby R. Salonga (student leadership), and Mr. Andrew L. Tan (special awardee in business).

Campus Project Management Office

The Campus Project Management Office successfully carried out its routine functions by properly documenting and negotiating the relocation of informal settlers who have been occupying the areas fronting PUP, in coordination with specific government agencies, such as NHA, DPWH, DSWD, and MMDA. Moreover, plans for the informal settlers before their relocation have been developed, and relocation sites for these people have been identified. To seek support for the relocation and livelihood of these settlers, linkages with agencies, like Local Inter-Agency Committee (LIAC) and Bahay Kalinga have been established. The office also participated in seminars and trainings, such as the Standards of Training Certification and Watch Keeping (STCWK) Amendments at the Philippine International Convention Center, sponsored by the International Maritime Organization (IMO).

Office of the Executive Vice President

Promoting COMMITMENT, INNOVATION, and TEAMWORK

49

2010 PUP
REPORT

*D*eserving to be credited for the unassuming accomplishments of the University is the Office of the Executive Vice President under the able leadership of Dr. Victoria C. Naval. Never refraining from work with all intents and purposes to assure that quality services are responsive and available, the OEVP supports students and faculty members in varied academic undertakings, such as learning, teaching, research, civic engagement, and international affairs. Further, the office promotes leadership, commitment, innovation, and teamwork that help create a nearly ideal environment of a Total University.

Year 2010 unfolded as a challenging period for the office; but the OEVP people, with all hands on deck, reaped the laurels of a very fruitful year. The office was tasked to oversee major University functions and projects, such as the 2010 University Strategic Planning, University Campus Plan, revision of the University policies and guidelines and the University Code, and coordination meetings among various sectors of the academe.

This report focuses on the accomplishments of the Open University System (OUS) and the Office of International Affairs (OIA).

OUS officials with the CHED Technical Panel on Distance and Transnational Education during the committee's review and monitoring visit

Open University System (OUS)

The Open University System (OUS), with its ten learning centers in Quezon City; Taguig City; Sto. Tomas, Batangas; Sta. Rosa, Laguna; Bansud, Oriental Mindoro; Lopez, Quezon; Maragondon, Cavite; Unisan, Quezon; and two off-campus programs in Quezon City and the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE), is one of the most valuable assets of the University. It delivers quality educational experiences, services, and benefits that extend beyond its main campus in Manila, crossing borders beyond the country. It expands educational opportunities and access through the state-of-the-art offline and online course works, quality modules, videoconferencing, and e-learning through the Moodle system, thereby, offering a unique, affordable, and career-oriented service to students who can earn their diplomas in a nontraditional way of learning.

Quality and Excellence

For 20 years, the PUP OUS takes pride in providing high-quality distance education in the country as proven by its 100%-compliance rating by the Commission on Higher Education (CHED) Technical Panel on Distance and Transnational Education during the committee's review and monitoring visit on September 29. The rating was based on these crucial factors: institutional management and commitment; curriculum development; instructional-material development; delivery mode; student assessment; and student-support services.

The CHED recommended that the PUP OUS may apply and offer more academic programs via distance mode to provide optimal access to more learners here and abroad.

International Recognition

The PUP OUS received an international award from the United Nations Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) Bangkok, Thailand as a Higher Education Institution for Distance and Open Learning in Asia and the Pacific in December.

ACCENTUATING ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

*P*UP has shaped people's minds and helped strengthen the nation since its establishment in 1904 as a forerunner of a low-tuition tertiary education for intellectually gifted but underprivileged students. The University, through the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs (OVPAA) under the headship of Dr. Samuel M. Salvador, does its best "to deliver the goods" to its constituents. Doing the Herculean task, the members of the different units under the OVPAA practically worked their fingers to the bone to direct program standards of the University to suit societal and global needs.

Moreover, the OVPAA, in full gear, has emphasized new and emerging academic initiatives, such as the implementation of multidisciplinary approaches in its internationally acceptable curricular offerings that has helped students top board examinations, posting higher passing percentages than the national passing rates. These initiatives, likewise, helped the University respond to the fast-changing information and communication technologies and forge local and international linkages.

Students and their organizations bagged coveted awards while faculty members also made remarkable and unparalleled performance in their respective fields of specialization.

Truly, the task force of the OVPAA have been devoting considerable time mentoring students and responding to their needs and interests. To the indefatigable workers of the OVPAA, we tip our hats!

- Under the close supervision of the VPAA, the curricula of all academic programs of the University were revised, reviewed, and submitted to the Commission on Higher Education (CHED).
 - Thirty-three (33) academic programs were approved for full implementation in the SY 2010-2011.
 - Three (3) new program titles were approved (in lieu of old programs).
 - Thirty (30) academic programs were still under review by the CHED technical panels.
- Faculty members were recommended to attend various local, national, and international seminars and to receive thesis- or dissertation-writing financial aid.
- Applicants for teaching positions were preevaluated by the office prior to the screening done by the respective college. The successful applicants were then interviewed by the VPAA, who recommended them to the University President.
- The office assisted students who requested for tutorial classes and additional academic load and who appealed for accommodation of late payment. Students, who were recommended by the chair, dean, or Vice President for Student Services, were likewise officially excused from their classes to attend cocurricular and extracurricular activities.
- Dr. Samuel M. Salvador engaged in different curricular and cocurricular activities: chairman of the CHED Technical Panel for Distance Education and the CHED Technical Panel for Associate/Diploma in Polytechnic Program; member of the CHED Technical Panel for Transnational Education; governor of the Global Peace Association – Philippines 2010; and director of the Global Peace Festival Foundation 2010. He also coauthored the book Global Marketing (Concepts and Practices).
- The University Quality Assurance Center came into full swing at the start of the first semester of SY 2010-2011 as it assisted selected academic programs for the Accrediting Agency of Chartered Colleges and Universities in the Philippines (AACUP) survey visit. With Dr. Milagrina A. Gomez at its helm, the center prepared the essential documents and facilitated the successful evaluation of these programs.

Office of the Vice President for Student Services

Fostering a SERVICE-ORIENTED University

In the pursuit of the University's mission to develop among its students the ability to think critically and to provide them opportunities to build self-reliance, self-rule, and self-management, the Office of the Vice President for Student Services (OVPSS) under the leadership of Dr. Juan C. Birion commits itself to the challenging task of delivering to its student clientele services that would make possible their holistic development. The myriad services offered by the OVPSS to achieve this end include easy enrollment procedures, improved guidance services and placement assistance, more scholarship awards and leadership trainings, and enhanced library and learning facilities. In more concrete terms, the following feats of the OVPSS and the various offices under it are eloquent manifestations of the efforts to realize the mission set.

As PUP's cultural arm that is tasked to keep culture and the arts alive, the center, through its cultural groups, has impressed and won the hearts of "audiences" with its manifold achievements in 2010.

Career Development and Placement Office

With its never-ceasing efforts, the CDPO has consistently succeeded in establishing connections outside the University, specifically with public and private organizations, where PUP graduates have a viable edge, given the quality of their training and preparation. Through well-organized job fairs and energetic collaboration with both the academe and the industry, the office has enhanced the marketability of the graduates as they strive to find their niches in the professional world.

In the year under review, the CPDO reaped these laurels.

- The office organized the CAREER MANIA 2010, a three-day job fair joined by 105 companies from various industries, nine government agencies, and almost 3, 000 students and alumni. Mr. Zeus P. Divina, the recruitment director of Convergys Philippines and a proud PUP College of Accountancy alumnus, graced the event. The job fair was simultaneously held at the M. H. del Pilar Campus, the College of Engineering and Architecture and College of Communication grounds, and the Main Campus from March 1 to 3.

- The unit also actively participated during the Freshman Orientation organized by the Office of the Vice President for Students Services (OVPS) from July 5 to 12 at the Bulwagang Balagtas. Ninoy Aquino Library and Learning Resources Center

The NALLRC serves as the repository of fundamental information that students regard as a haven of knowledge and scholarly data. PUP students, who are economically disadvantaged to buy books, find refuge in the center as they indulge themselves in researches and any other library assignments.

In 2010, the NALLRC did its best to achieve the following:

- conducted its staff-development activity through fora on “NALLRC Personnel: Personal Experience with Changing Work Roles and Environment” with Prof. Tomas San Pedro as resource speaker and “Updates in the Use of e-Books and e-Journals” with Ms. Myla Stephanie B. Villarosa, systems specialist of the Ce-Logic, as speaker;
- held its annual team building in Morong, Bataan;
- acquired from January to June 974 volumes of printed books through purchase and 275 volumes of various library resources through the “Handog Aklat Project” with Bridge Publications, Japan Embassy, United Nations Department of Economic and Social Affairs; from July to December, the center added to its collection 642 volumes of different library materials;
- purchased five units of desktop computers through the proceeds of the project “Raffle for a Cause”;
- spearheaded the celebration of the 2010 National Book Week;
- led the inauguration of e-Resource services and the launching of the Integrated Library System;
- generated income from rental fees of multimedia rooms (Bonifacio and Balagtas Halls) amounting to P 191,270.00; and

Office of the Vice President for Research, Extension, and Development

Searching for “WAYS” and “MEANS” Without LET-UP

With the tireless efforts of Dr. Pastor B. Malaborbor, the Office of the Vice President for Research, Extension, and Development (OVPRED) shifted to high gear in 2010. With their eyes focused on target objectives, the OVPRED people indulged themselves in well-planned, efficient, and result-producing performance in research, training, advocacy, extension, entrepreneurship, and publications. The impressive sense of professionalism and the strong participative leadership in the OVPRED have inspired the various centers and units under it to dynamically and cooperatively accomplish projects and activities they lined up for the year. The office, likewise, has judiciously engaged itself in finding ways and means to improve the lives of people intellectually, economically, socially, and physically, thus, enhancing the University's image of excellence.

The center’s director and the University President had their interviews in GMA and NBN to promote the campus’s environment-care-and-protection advocacies.
- In consonance with the government’s initiative to mitigate the causes of climate change, the center undertook a seminar and environmental campaign on “War Footing Against Climate Change: Reduction of Carbon Footprints” in the University and in selected barangays and schools in Metro Manila in cooperation with the barangay officials and other LGU officials, students, teachers, and school employees.
